

The background of the image is a vibrant, marbled texture in various shades of red and pink. The marbling pattern is organic and fluid, with darker red veins and swirls against a lighter pink base. The overall effect is reminiscent of natural stone or liquid paint mixed together.

A person's hands are visible, holding a white smartphone in the right hand and a white compostable cup with a white straw in the left hand. The cup has the word "COMPOSTABLE" printed vertically on the straw. The background is dark and out of focus, showing what appears to be a chair and some other objects. The overall tone is professional and eco-conscious.
